The University of Oregon Sustainability Leadership Program presents

SALEM SUSTAINABILITY SERIES
Executive-Style Morning Sessions for Government Managers and Vendors

Hosted by Willamette University Center for Sustainable Communities,
Moderated by Good Company

PORTLAND, OR— The Salem Sustainability Series is comprised of workshops designed around government leadership and government vendors. Emphasis will be on teaching essential elements of sustainability to inform future decision-making and leadership efforts, while small group sizes will facilitate an interactive, efficient exchange of information. Continental breakfast will be served on-site.

Fall workshop topics include:

Understanding Climate Change: Science, Policy, and Climate Risk Assessment
Tuesday, September 9, 9:00 a.m. to noon

Fundamentals of Sustainability: Concepts, Decision Tools, and Program Development
Tuesday, October 7, 9:00 a.m. to noon

Sustainability Indicators and Assessment for Government Leadership
Tuesday, November 4, 9:00 a.m. to noon

Public/Private Partnerships for Sustainability
Tuesday, December 2, 9:00 a.m. to noon

Salem Sustainability Series workshops can be taken individually or as a series in conjunction with the Sustainability Leadership Program. Continuing Education Units (CEU) are available and applicable towards the UO Sustainability Leadership Certificate.
